

Have you ever had the question your whole life about what career or job you want to do when you grow up? I've had that question since I was young, and working with my dad, and when I started drawing. My three reasons why I want to go to college are my college location interests, sports/clubs, and career/degrees. Before I go to college I want to go into the Marine Corps, and the reason why I want to go to the Marine Corps is because I've always wanted to help keep people safe from enemy threats such as terrorism, nuclear threats and help train the other countries military from future attacks.

One reason why I want to go to college is for the career I want to pursue and to get a degree. One of my career interests is to be a graphic designer and the degree that I need to pursue this interest is a bachelor's degree in graphics. My second career interest is to be a Station Manager T.V. and Radio Announcer and the degree I need for this career choice is a bachelor's degree in communications. My final career interest is to be a blacksmith. The degree I need for this option is a bachelor's degree in fine arts, business or precision metal working. My interests for careers will help me narrow down on the best colleges out of the many options, and to get my college degrees and to be successful.

The colleges that I am interested in are Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, Texas, Northeast Community College in Norfolk, Nebraska, and University of Nebraska in Lincoln in Lincoln, Nebraska. I want to go to TCU because I am religious. TCU is out of state and I want to see more of the United States. The reason why I want to go to Northeast Community College is because I am in Norfolk and I sometimes drive by the college for doctor appointments. My final reason why I want to go to UNL is that I have been to the university inside of it and seen the college I think the facility is amazing and I think it would be a fun experience to attend that college, and I have also seen the stadium on television, I was recently at the stadium after being at the State House all day for meetings. I want to go to UNL because I have friends that go to UNL and I sometimes have been thinking about going to UNL. Having those college interests will help me be successful.

The sports/clubs that I want to do in college are Cross Country, Track and I want to be in a religious and spiritual group. The reason why I want to do Cross Country and track is because I like to put in the miles and use my Cross Country skills for track to run well and also to meet new friends. The reason why I want to be in a religious and spiritual group is because I can help build more of my religion as a Christian and my spirit and tell others what I experience as a Christian and how I built more of my religion and my spirit as a Christian. Being part of sports/clubs will help me make new friends, travel the world, expand on the career that I want to do in my future and my life.

Have you ever had the question your whole life about what career or a job you want to do when you grow up? My three reasons why I want to go to college are my college interest, sports/clubs, and career/degrees. Before I go to college I want to go into the Marine Corps and the reason why I want to go to the Marine Corps is that I will be able to retire when I have a full pension and served enough years in the Marines to be able to retire after serving at least 20 years and having my pension after I served, I always wanted to help keep people safe from enemy threats such as terrorism, nuclear threats and help train the other countries military from future attacks.
